THE LAW OF NEWSPAPERS.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.

2 If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspaper from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers and the newspapers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. The United States Courts have also repeatedly decided that a Postmaster who neglects to perform his duty of giving reasonable notice, as required by the Post Office Department of the neglect of a person to take from the office newspapers addressed to oim. renders the Postmaster liable to the publisher for the subscription price.

Bank Money.

A good many of our citizens have on hand more or less of the bank bills of our different State Bank. There is also a good deal of the South Carolina bank bills in this community. Our people in many instances-are at a loss what to do with these bills. In the market among brokers they are bringing from three to sixty cents in the dollar. But many of our common people who are not posted as to the condition of the banking operations are holding back unwilling to sell, for fear they may be swindled, and hoping that one day these bills will all be good. Some even think the States are redeeming their bills at so much in the dollar in specie. This last supposition is a great mistake. The States have no specie with which to redeem their bills and of course they are not doing it. There is no possible chance for these bank bills ever to be any better. The U. S. National Banking system is breaking down all other banks and superceding them. There is a tax of ten per cent on the profits and dividends of all State and other banks except National Banks, which is so heavy that they are bound to close business. The Legislature has also passed a law allowing the banks to close business by assigning all their effects to a commission who makes a pro rata payment on all the claims against the banks, and thus when a bill is worth only ten or fifteen cent in the dollar, the bank can only pay ten or fifteen cents in the dollar of their debts, and by paying this they are released from all further obligation to pay. Hence you see the bills can never be any better. Our people therefore should dispose of their bank bills at the earliest possible chance. in fact they will save by this operation or the bills are gradually growing worse and worse every day.—Cleaveland Argus.

THE SWEARER'S WAGES.

A. What wages does Satan allow you for swearing, young man?

B. What do you mean?

A. I mean what I say. Do you have high or low wages?

B. I don't get any wages?

A. From the manner in which you pour out oaths, your wages must be very high.

B. Well they are not.

A. So I see, and allow me to tell you, that you work very cheap, cheaper than any person I ever heard of.—I never knew any one having such a miserable wages for so much labor.

B. There is something in what you say, and I will—

A. Yes—yes—there is something—cheap work, cheap work, I tell you. Just look—you lay aside the character of a well-bred man and gentleman; you injure the feelings of your best friends and in fact inflict pain on a civil people who hear you swear; you dishonor the name of our Maker; and run the risk of losing your precious soul, and all for nothing. Young man, I tell you, you work for a hard master—and you work cheap—very cheap, in deed.

I WENT PLAY WITH SWEARERS.—A man, looking up from sawing his wood, saw his little son turning two boys out of the yard.

"See here; what are you about George?" asked the man.

"I'm turning two swearers out of my yard, sir," said George. "I said I would not play with swearers, and I won't.

This in the right time and place to say, "I won't." I wish every boy would take the stand, No play with swearers. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

NONE OF HIS BUSINESS.—A minister asked a little boy who had been converted—

"Does not the devil tell you that you are not a Christian?"

"Yes, sometimes."

"Well, what do you say to him?"

"I tell him," replied the boy, with something of Luther's spirit, "that whether I am a christian or not, it is none of his business.

"Sonny, does your father take a paper?"

"Yes, sir, two of 'em. One of 'em belongs to Mr. Smith and the other to Mr. Thompson. I hook 'em both off the steps as regular as can be."

AWFUL.—The following starting threat was made use of the other day, by an excited pugilist: "I'll twist you round your own neck and ram you down your own throat, until there is nothing left of you but the extreme ends of your shirt collar sticking out of your eyes." His opponent left.

Artemus Ward tells a good story concerning the production of the Lady of Lyons at the Salt Lake City theatre: "An aged Mormon had went out with his twenty four wives, angrily stating that he wouldn't sit and see a play where a man made such a fuss over one woman."

"Mother," said a Spartan boy, going to battle, "my sword is too short." "Add a step to it," was the reply.

"Tell the truth and shame the devil." I know lots of people who can shame the devil easy enuff, but the former thing bothers 'em.—Josh Billings.

"Well, Dick," said a doctor to a polite man whose wife he had been attending, "how is your wife?" "She is dead, I thank you."

A gentleman while in church, intending to scratch his head in a mental absence, reached over into the next pew and scratched the head of an old maid. He discovered his mistake when she sued him for a breach of promise.

A chap from the country stopping at one of the hotels in the city of New York, being asked by the waiter whether he would have green or black tea, said he didn't care what color it was if it had plenty of sweetnin' in it.

Mrs. Partington advises all young people inflicted with preparation of the heart to apply a ploster of the contract of mustard, to draw out the information, and she says she has never know a failure where this device was swallowed

DON'T KNOW WHO MADE HIM.—An urchin of ten summers was sent to school for the first time. The teacher, to test his acquirements, asked him;

"Who made you?" The boy couldn't answer The teacher told him the proper answer, and desired the boy to remember it. Some hours afterward the teacher repeated the question. The boy, rubbing his head for a moment in a kind of brown study, replied,

"I swow, I've forgotton the gentleman's name."

TOO OLD TO BE TRIFLED WITH.

An old army surgeon, who was very fond of a joke if not perpetrated at his own expense, was one day at a mess after the decanter had performed sundry perambulations of the table, when a brave and accomplished officer, and a great wag, remarked to the doctor who been somewhat severe in his remarks on the literary deficiencies of some of the officers—

"Doctor, are you acquainted with Captain G?" "Yes, I know him well," replied the doctor, "but what of him?" "Nothing in particular" replied the officer, "I have just received a letter from him, and I'll wager you a dozen of old port that you can't guess in five guesses how he spells cat." "Done," said the doctor, it's a wager." "Well, commence guessing." said the officer. "K a double-t." "No." "K-a-t-e!" "No, try again." C-a-t-e?" "No, you have missed it again." "Well, then," returned the doctor, "C-a-double-t." "No that's not the way; try it again—it's your last guess." "C-a-g-h-t." "No," said the wag, "that's not the way; you have lost the wager." "Well," said the doctor, with much petulance of manner ,, "how does he spell it?" "Why, he spells it c-a-t," replied the wag, with the utmost gravity amid the roars of mess, and almost choking with rage, the doctor sprang to his feet exclaiming: "Gentlemen, I am too old to be trifled with in this manner!"

FUN AT HOME.—Don't be afraid of a little fun at home. Don't shut your house lest the sun should fade your carpets and your hearths, lest a hearty laugh shake down some of the musty old cobwebs there! If you want to ruin your sons let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold without when they come home at night, When once home is regarded as a place to eat, drink and sleep in, the work is begun that ends in gambling houses and degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere if they do not find it an their own heart stones, it will be sought at other and less profitable places. Therefore, let the fire burn brightly at night, and make the homestead delightful with all those little arts that parents so perfectly understan. Don't repress the buoyant spirit of your children; half hour's merriment round the lamp and firelight of home blots out the remembrances of many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safeguard they can take with them into the would is the influance of a bright little domestic santum.

A RICH SERMON.

"My friend, sin makes the purtiest young man in the world ugly-ah. And I will tell you how I know-ah. I was coming up to church to-day, when I saw some men on the road-ah, and thought one of them the purtiest young man I ever saw in my life-ah. And as I drew nigh unto them, I discovered they were playing at marvels, and they all drew nigh unto a place they called taw, and they marveled-ah. And when he marveled, he jumped up and flapped his hands like a rooster does his wings, and says, 'I wish I may be d—d if I haint fat-ah!' And oh, my friends, then I thought he was the ugliest man I ever saw in my life-ah. And I opened my mouth, and spake unto him thus: Says I, young man, this is not the way to salvation.

"And he said, 'Look here, old hoss, if you had been salivated as I was, you would not love to hear talk of salivation.'

"And now, my friends, if that young man said he was fat he told a lie, for he was as lean as that hungry-looking sister over thar, that's always so piously when the hat is being passed around-ah.

"And, my friends, if that young man had not been blinded by sin, he never could a mistuck me for an old hoss-ah."

☞ "I say mister, did you ever see a dog come by here that looked as if he were a year or a year and a-half, or two years old?" said a traveler to a countryman at the roadside.

'Yes," said the countryman, thinking him self quizzed. "He passed about an hour, or an hour and a half or two hours ago; and is now a mile or a mile and a half or two miles a head; and he had a tail about an inch or a inch and a half or two inches long'

"That'll do," said the traveler, "you're into me about a foot or a foot and a half, or two feet."

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Below we give a synopsis of such portions of Gov. Worth's Message, as we think will be of interest to our readers, it is a remarkable document, and we would be glad to lay it before our readers, but its length prevents us from doing so without excluding other important matter.

He commences by reviewing the condition of our National affairs, thinks the Congressional test oath unconstitutional, he opposes the Howard Amendment for reasons given, one of which is that it will exclude from holding offices men who had held office and taken an oath to support the constitution of the United States before the 20th of May, 1861, thus excluding the great body of the intelligence of the State—concludes his objections to the Amendment by saying

"How long this unnatural condition of our relations is to continue, it seems, we shall be allowed to have no share in determining, No time has been set, and no conditions propsed, on which it may be terminated· In the meantime, I trust, we shall mee t events as the y arise with a reasonable and manly fortitude, ready at all times to fulfill our duties as patriotic citizens. but under no circumstances willing to sacrifice the honor and rights of the State, as a member of the Union,—not in the sense of the advocates of secession. but as taught by Iredell and Marshall, and Story and Kent and Webster,—and in which moderate men everywhere, North and South before the war, were supposed to concur. Anxious as I was to avert the late war, and have at all times been to compose our troubles on the basis of the Union as our fathers framed it, I can perceive in this proposed amendment nothing calculated to perpetuate the Union ; but its tendency seems to me better suited to perpetuate sectional alienation and estrangement, and I have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending that it be not ratified."

He next reviews the condition of the African race, thinks that they had better emigrate to the Northern States as wages are better, and there is a better chance for them to rise to political stations, everything invites them to the dorminant States, he says,

"I respectfully recommend that you propose this plan of national reconciliation to the Congress of the United States.—Whether the suggestion be carried out or not, it behooves us to consider what the welfare of the State requires us to do in special reference to the African race amog us, The task which the sudden emancipation of so many slaves imposed, if we were allowed to undertake it without interference, would be a most difficult one! We must face it, as it is; and do the best we can for the common weal of the white and the black."

He favors a repeal of the law authorizing the building of Work-Houses in each county, and suggests the propriety of working roads by taxation, and that convicts be compelled to work them with ball and chain.

Favors the erection of a Penitentiary for the higher grades of crime.

Recommends a revision of the law in regard to paupers and apprenticeships, so as to make no difference in the binding out of white and colored children.

Calls attention to the fact that Hon. John Pool's term of office as United States Senator will expire on the 4th of next March and recommends the election of a Senator.

Reviews the condition of the Lunatic Asylum, Public Library, and Governor's Mansion.

Recommends the appointment of an agent to superintend supplying the different counties with weights and measures.

Notices the condition of the Militia of the State but makes no recommendation.

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature proposing to repeal the Stay Law passed by the late convention, we are sorry to see a disposition on the part of the Legislature to again bother with this law, the people are getting used to the law, and all are ready to acknowledge that it will work as well as any law that can be passed, to do away with the stay law entirely would ruin many of our best citizens and we ar satisfied that if it is repealed some more objectionable stay law will be passed than the present one is,

Stay laws are objectionable and there are doubts as to whether any stay law can be passed which is constitutional—we are opposed to stay laws, but the people need and must have some relief—the present law gives that relief to as full a measure as ought to be asked, for the man who can not pay one-tenth of his indebtedness by spring courts will not be apt to be able to pay the full amount soon, if ever,

And all who ever expect to pay their debts will try to make some arrangement to meet the first installment, These stay laws are a species of repudiation which are calculated to ruin the credit of our people, they do not work well, and we long to see the day when we shall return to our old laws in regard to collection,

If our Legislature would give speedy relief to the people let them mature some bill by which we may get a currency, is there not wisdom enough in the Legislature to do this? We shall see,

THE LADY'S FRIEND, FOR DECEMBER.—The December number of that beautiful Magazine reminds us by its profuse display of attractions that the Holidays are approaching. The charming Steel Engraving, "UNDER THE MISTLETOE," and the more elaborate design of that which is appropriately termed "OLD FOLKS AT HOME AND YOUNG ONES ABROAD," have a direct reference to the happy and festive Christmas season. These Engravings are executed on Steel, and in the finest style of art, as a comparison with those in other magazines will prove. Next, there is a beautiful Colored Engraving, designed as a Pattern for Berlin Wool Work and Beads—worth in itself double the price of the whole number. Then a splendid Double-Paged Colored Fashion Plate—no common lithograph this, but finely executed on Steel, from the latest Parisian styles. Next, we have a Wood Engraving of "The Tournament"—a Christmas amusement; a piece of Music, and a host of other Wood Engravins, devoted to the Fashions, Needle-Work, &c, &c.

The Literary Matter is, as usual, of the best quality. We may specify "Mrs. Brent's Christmas," "The Old Clock's Story;" "Widow and Orphan," &c, &c. The Editorial Department this month is peculiarly excellent. The publishers announce Four Novelets for next year, by Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," Elizabeth Prescott, Amanda M. Douglas, and Frank Lee Benedict. They also announce, in addition to the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines, a Splendid List of new Premiums, including Silver-Plated Tea Sets, Cake-Baskets and Ice-Pitchers, Silver and Gold Watches, Guns and Rifles, Clothes' Wringers Melodeons and Organs Appleton's Cyclopædia, &. A beautiful Steel Engraving. 26 inches long by 20 inches wide, call "One of Life's Happy Hours," will be sent gratis to every single (2 50)subscriber, and to every person sending a club. Specimen numbers of the magazine, containing the particulars of the premium offers and the reduced prices to clubs, will be sent on the receipt of twenty cents.

Price (with engraving) $2 50 a year; Four copies (with one engraving) $6 00; Eight copies (with extra magazine and an engraving) $12 00. Address, Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Stree, Philadelphia.

Legislative Summary.

Nov. 20th.

Messrs. Stone, Ramsey and Hampton were elected Engrossing clerks.

W. E. Pell, of the Sentinel. was elected State Printer by the following vote. Pell 115, Nichols, Gorman & Co.; 37, and W. B. Smith & Co., 5.

In the House, Mr. Waugh gave notice that hereafter he would introduce a bill to repeal the Stay Law, passed by the late convention.

Nov. 21.

Mr. Best was unanimously elected Secretary of State.

Mr. Waugh introduced a bill to grant a general amnesty or pardon for all offences committed against the Laws of this State, prior to January 1st, 1866, with certain exceptions.

The amnesty does not include offences committed upon women or children under 17 years of age or homicides, but includes homicides committed during the war by officers or men acting under military authority.

Nov. 22.

SENATE.—Mr. Berry introduced a bill to establish a free hold homestead to citizens of the State.

Mr. Speed a bill for the relief of honest debtors.

A message was received from the House proposing to set apart Tuesday the 27th for the election of U. S, Senator, concurred in.

Mr. Speed introduced a bill to prevent frauds upon the Revenue of the State. It provides that in all actions of debt, it shall be competent for the defendant to plead and show upon trial that there has been a failure by the plaintiff.

HOUSE.—Mr. McKay introduced a bill to enable the Western Railroad Company to complete its road from the Coalfields in Chatham county to some point on the North-Carolina Railroad.

Mr. Richardson ; a bill to punish persons who knowingly entice or persuade minors to leave the service of their parents, guardians or masters.

Mr. Allen, a bill to amend the sixth section of the 45th chapter of the Revised Code entitled "Fences"

Mr Warfield, a bill to incorporate Union Camp Ground in the county of Cleveland.

Mr Long, a bill for the relief of the people. [Proposes to repeal the Revenue law]

Mr Shipman, a bill to empower the County Courts to levy a tax for repairing roads.

Mr. Durham, a bill to construe an act entitled an act to establish a scale of depreciation of Confederate money.

Mr. Jordan, a bill to provide a Homestead [Proposes to exempt from execution for ever, one hundred acres of land, or real estate to the value of $500

Mr. Ashworth a bill to exempt Ministers of the Gospel from working on the public roads and paying poll-taxes.

Mr. Hutchinson, from a joint select committee, reported joint rules for the government of both Houses and to regulate their intercourse.

Mr. Logan moved that the House do not concur in the committee's report. He objected to the provision allowing the Senate equal representation on certain committees, and also to the provision raising a joint committee to investigate and report as to the qualifications of persons recommended for appointment as Justices of the Peace.

A vote having been taken and being lost, on motion of Mr. Logan, the vote was then reconsidered, the rule to raise a committee to enquire as to the qualifications of Magistrates was stricken out, and the residue of the report concurred in.

Nov. 24.

Mr Wilson, a resolution favoring and encouraging foreign emigration.

Mr Wilson urged the reference and adoption of the above resolution in some appropriate and pointed remarks.

Mr. Speed had very little confidence in its practical utility.

The resolution was then referred to the committee on propositions and grievances.

Mr. Gash, a bill establishing new regulations.

Dr. SEELYE'S

Liquid Catarrh Remedy

SYMPTOMS.

The symptoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterwards thick and adhesive, may ensue

As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak, the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place.

Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a sick or slimy mucous, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this tass place, the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should loose no time in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal symptoms. Write to our Laboratory for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms, it will be sent FREE to address. Also directions where to procure the medicine.

We are receiving letters from all parts of the Union, and also numerous testimonials from those using it, bearing the evidence of its infallible merits.

JUST published, a new edition of DR CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagence.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and and every man in the land.

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents Address the publishers,
